"If Ewig made them, they fit." TAILORS AND THEIR

The decision of the organized tailors to sell at public auction judgments obtained by them against debtors who obstinately refuse to pay their bills is an implied confession that they have been doing business on a bad sytem, as it is a system which has caused the honest customer to pay for the default of the dishonest. We have reformed all this. The money saved by preventing bad debts enables us to sell good work and materials at a much less price than the old-fogy tallors charge.

Speculation is rife as to the probable speculation is file as to the probable result of the Thanksgiving-Day foot-ball game between the Universities of Virginia and North Carolina. The belief that the blue and white may this year wave in triumph over the orange and blue is gaining ground, and the records of the two teams. It must be said, points in that direction.

This fact adds a spice of excitement to the contest, and the crowd of spectators is expected to be larger than usual. Preparations have been made at Broad-Street Park to meet the exigencies of the case, and new bleacheries have been erected on the north side of the field. Whatever may be the result of the game, it is sure to be very fast and hard fought.

After the game, and between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock, the members of the two teams will be cutertained at the Comtwellight.

After the game, and between the hours it 8 and 10 o'clock, the members of the wo teams will be entertained at the Component of the Virginia University Alumni ssociation. The club will be decorated ith the colors of both universities, and ith palms and flowers.

The officers expected yesterday to re-nlist men mustered out of the Seconand Third, but all recruits will have t be transferred men. It seems now as if only members of the Second Regiment can be received into the Fourth Regiment men cannot be taken, owing their having been mustered out. There is undoubtedly going to be great difficulty in obtaining men. It would have been comparatively easy to have gotten the 300 men needed had the ten allowed to first muster out of the Second, and then enlist in the Fourth. They would thus and would, besides, have entered th Fourth on the footing of recruits-that is, they would have been entitled to $30 clothing allowance for the first six months of service. This sum is much months of service. This sum is much larger for the first six months than for amounting to $1,402.23, were approved and ordered to be paid.

An ordinance of the Council, authorizing the committee to appoint an additional ambulance driver, was received, but inasmuch as all other employees are appointed by the superintendent, under existing ordinances, the committee decided to recommend to the Council that the ordinance be amended so as to invest the appointing power in the superintendent.

The sub-Committee on Rules to Govern the Ambulance Department through Mr. Gunst reported that the committee had carefully looked into the question of adopting new rules, but were of the opinion no rules should be adopted, but that the manner in which the department should be managed should be left to the discretion of the superintendent and surgeon. This question provoked considerable discussion, but the report of the subcommittee was finally received.

Proposals for furnishing the department with supplies were opened, and the following contracts were awarded: Druss, to Owens & Minor Drug Company; men's coats and pants, to J. J. Steinbrecher; hose (cotton), to Burnett Lewis, halfhose, shirts, domestics, and bed ticking, to M. Rosenbaum & Co.; blankets, to J. M. Fourqurean & Co.; fresh lamb and pork, to J. J. Gravens; bacon, to Kingan & Co.; flour, to R. F. Williams & Co.; lard, rice, sugar, and peas, to J. T. Vaughan; coffee, to L. Levy & Son; soap, to Slater, Myers & Co.; butter, to W. T. Smoot & Co.; herrings, potatoes, beans, and canned tomatoes, to D. O'Sullivan; corn and straw, to S. T. Beverige & Co.; hay and oats, to D. O'Sullivan; The contract for shoes was appointed between J. R. Goode & Son, Burnett Lewis, B. E. Bowles, and W. R. Phillips & Co.

On motion of Mr. Snead, a sub-committee of five, consisting of Messrs, Drewry, Cottrell, Hobson, Gunst, and Snead, was appointed to consider and revise the present rules and regulations governing the almshouse.
